At present, the global order is entering a new stage of adjustment. Digital technology is deeply integrated with production and life, and the epidemic will accelerate the full penetration of the digital economy. The 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China has drawn a grand blueprint for comprehensively promoting the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation with Chinese-style modernization, and China's economy is transforming from high-speed growth to high-quality development, which will create more strategic opportunities for drone companies. In order to help drone companies envision longer-term environmental changes in the future, identify important issues that need attention in the future, and examine the changes in the competitive landscape of the industry in which they operate from a global perspective to achieve sustainable and high-quality development.

The organizing committee sincerely invites you to attend the 7th Drone World Congress 2023 to be held in Shenzhen from June 2 to 4.
